PREFACE

The sales comprising the auction season of 1927-1928, listed, in order of occurrence, at the front of this volume, include among those of special interest the Charles Francis Jenkins and the Zachary T. Hollingsworth collections of historic autographs, the Thomas Hatton Collection of Works by Charles Dickens, Autographs from the Collection of Schuyler Colfax, Elizabethan and later literature from the Library of S. N. Levy, an English collection of Kipling material, the Library of the late John C. Tomlinson, the Library of Dr. Perceval M. Barker, the Stevenson Library of Henry A. Colgate, Incunabula and early Americana from the collections of Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehre, a Collection of Miniature Books, the Varnum Collection of Historic American Autographs, Duplicate Maps from the W. M. Clements Library, Historic Autographs owned by David M. Newbold, the Library of the late Charles H. Senff, the Collection of the Estate of the late Judge Elbert H. Gary, the Edward Garnett Collection of Conrad-Hudson material; Letters to the Colvins, Books from the Library of the late J. B. Foley, and property of the George D. Smith Co., Inc.

As indicating the present state of the public market, we make here, as usual, a brief reference to the prices of the period covered by this volume. In doing so, we must ask that the following matters be borne in mind. In any consideration of market values of an entire season, a chief feature would be comparison with the past, and it would be of interest to point out here works which have fallen in price as well as those which have advanced. Unfortunately, there is little to say just now of a downward trend; and, in viewing the market as it is, it is possible in this space to do little more than call attention to certain items which, as a rule, have obtained record prices—a term covering a comparison for the last five or six years only, during which period a new, if progressive, standard may be said to have been set up. A consideration making a general comparison difficult on other grounds is that called “condition”—binding, special features revealed in the collation of books, etc.—and in noting high or low prices it must be remembered that any special reasons for the same must be sought in the text of this volume itself, where determining features of individual items are described as reported to us by the auctioneers. Again, the items quoted in this preface do not always represent the highest sums of the season. A work bringing an inordinate price may carry with it some autographic or other association interest, may belong to an issue limited to one, two, or three copies, or may be specially bound. Such works, except as autographs, do not come into a note of this kind, because their more or less unique nature renders them less useful for comparison than are more truly representative copies.

The two Vollbehr sales brought a number of 15th and 16th century works to initial public sale, their 239 lots altogether selling at an average price of about $230, two at $950 and $975 respectively, a number at $1000 each, others at $1200, $1500, $1650, $2000, $3300, and $4600. Immediately after dispersal of the Vollbehr incunabula a copy of the Strassburg [1472] Postillæ super Bibliam of Lyra was sold at $1300.

From the Levy collection the 1613 edition of Bacon's Essaies sold at $475, Beaumont's Poems, 1646, at $475; Chapman's Homer [1610] at $450; Coryat's Crambe, 1611, at $380; Lavater's Of Ghosts, 1572, at $925; Marlowe's Lust's Dominion, 1657, at $1450; Milton's Areopagitica, 1644, at $740; the Dublin [1778] edition of Sheridan's School for Scandal, at $550; Webster's Tragedy of the Dutchesse of Malfy, 1623, at $1125; Spenser's Colin Clout, 1595, and Complaints, 1591, at $975 and $1000 respectively; and Sterne's Sentimental Journey, 1768, at $1575. The season included, also, sales of the 1639 edition of the Bloody Brother at $460; the Oxford, 1621 edition of Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy at $700; Donne's Poems, 1633, at $760; Sir Thomas Browne's Religio Medici, 1642, at $450; and the 1684 Pilgrim's Progress at $2600.

The Tomlinson Library produced the Hoe copy of Herrick's Hesperides, 1648, at $2200; a Shakespeare Fourth Folio at $1725; Shelley's The Cenci, 1819, at $675; Sterne's Tristram Shandy, 1760-67, at $1500; a copy of the ordinary edition of the Kelmscott Chaucer at $1050; and Whitman's Leaves of Grass, 1855, at $1800.

Other copies of the same Kelmscott Chaucer were sold at $1575 and $1600 respectively, the first of these in the Barker sale, which included works of other special presses, also, issues of the Ashendene Press bringing $500-$2150.

A copy of Gray's Elegy, 1751, was purchased early in the season at $4900, later Boswell's Life of Johnson, 1791, at $500, and Blake's Europe: a Prophecy, 1794, at $11,300.

Among books from the Senff Library, Fielding's Joseph Andrews, 1742, brought $680 and Tom Jones, 1749, $760, the Bruton copies of the Humourist, 1819-19-19-20, and Wit's Magazine and Attic Miscellany [1818] bound from original parts, $4250 and $2600 respectively.

Works of historic American interest included Revolutionary broadsides at $300-$725, the New York, 1757 edition of the Indian treaty negotiated by Sir William Johnson at $1500, and Birch's Views of Philadelphia in 1800 at $530.

Dickens items included a collection of the Christmas books, 1843-48, at $1700, the Christmas Carol alone, 1843, at $750; Great Expectations: a Drama, 1861, at $450; and, among works "in parts," the 1855-57 Little Dorrit at $135; Oliver Twist, 1846, at $1150; Sketches by Boz, 1837-39, at $1000; A Tale of Two Cities, 1859, at $850; and Pickwick Papers, 1836-37, at $16,300.

The 1880 Burton "Kasidah" was sold at $1125; Barrie's Little Minister, 1891, at $650; and Lawrence's Pillars of Wisdom of the 1926 privately printed edition, at $2500. A mid-winter sale, which included a number of first editions of modern authors, raised records of last year for Conrad's [1913] Chance to $2300, Gissing's 1880, Workers in the Dawn to $1550, and Hardy's 1903-06-08 Dynasts to $2350.

Much autographic material appeared upon the market. Among items of historic American interest, a document signed by Champlain brought $3200, the tentative draft of the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution, signed by Hamlin and Congressmen, $725; the medical log book of the Frigate, Constitution, 1812-1813, $925; Gen. Grant's address (in pencil) upon the occasion of the dedication of the Lincoln monument, $1050; a document in the hand of Thomas Jefferson, $575; Tobias Lear's letter announcing the death of Washington, $2900; Lincoln's speech on Sectionalism, $18,000; a 1776 letter of the Marine Committee, $3900; a 1775 letter of Gen. Montgomery, $800; a letter of Col. Tallmadge describing the last moments of André, $2400; a letter of Gen. Artemas Ward, $950; one of Seth Warner, $600; letters of Washington, $3400, $4000, and $4400; a manuscript of Gideon Welles, $1500; a letter by Roger Williams, $7350; and one by the Baron de Woedtke, $1050. Special interest was shown in a collection of 39 lots, including a number of letters by Thomas Jefferson, concerning the "Convention Troops" during their detention in Virginia.

The Signers of the Declaration of Independence were represented in the Jenkins and Hollingsworth collections, autographs of some of them showing no rise in price, the greater number, however, setting records, as follows: Bartlett, $625; Braxton, $1250 and $1500; Clark, $1120; Ellery, $1050; Floyd, $2400; Franklin, $3900; Hancock, $500; Harrison, $800; F. L. Lee, $3000; R. H. Lee, $2500; Lynch, $7500; Robert Morris, $1550; Morton, $200; Nelson, $260; Paca, $220; Paine, $900; Ross, $300; Stone, $290; Taylor, $550; Walton, $250; Wilson, $950; Witherspoon, $1800 and $4000; and Wythe, $400 and $850.

Among autographs of authors, a letter of Burns containing his Poem to Chloris was bought at $7800; Byron's letter to Trelawney upon arrangements for the cremation of Shelley's body, at $2800; a letter by Dickens, at $2800; one by Keats, at $6600; a Kipling manuscript, at $3100; three Irving manuscripts, at $600, $600, and $2500; a literary manuscript of Whitman, at $1900, his will, at $1300; Wilde's Duchess of Padua in manuscript, at $3850; and a letter by Yates upon his quarrel with Thackeray, at $1400.

As this volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the publication, the following explanation of its scheme is reprinted from earlier issues.

The name of the author, or the main heading, is set in black-faced capitals. As a rule, Club and Press publications are listed under the name of the club or press in question; and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are given subject entries. In the present issue, three new headings are introduced—FORE-EDGE PAINTING, MINIATURE BOOKS, and ROGERS (Bruce): BOOKS PRINTED OR DESIGNED BY HIM.

The titles of various works under these main entries are printed in black-faced type, capitals and lower case. The subsequent matter, the description, printed in light-faced type, is in two portions, the first, including the imprint—place, printer, date—and size of volume, is general and applies to all copies of the work listed.

The second portion of the description, applying specifically to the copy of the book sold (each lot beginning a new line), is made up as follows: (1) a description of the binding; (2) a statement as to the condition of this copy—if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.; (3) capital (key) letter, referring to the Chronological List of Sales at the beginning of this volume and indicating the name and date of the sale; (4) the lot number of the sale catalogue; (5) the price realized, that is, the price per lot and not per volume.
